

PUBLIC DISCLOSURE PROTOCOL FOR THE DECOMMISSIONED BEAVERLODGE PROPERTIES

Cameco has an ongoing program to keep community members in northern Saskatchewan informed of activities at the decommissioned Beaverlodge properties. This program flows from a longstanding corporate communications policy.

This policy states that Cameco is committed to honest and ethical communication, both in principle and practice. Cameco advocates open, responsive, clear communication that supports and furthers the vision and strategy of the corporation and acknowledges our stakeholders' need for timely and accurate information presented in a meaningful way. Cameco believes adhering to this policy will help Cameco foster stakeholder confidence and loyalty, ultimately enhancing support for activities at the decommissioned Beaverlodge properties.

The licensed properties have a public information program which outlines how we communicate to the site's target audience, in particular the residents of Uranium City. When necessary, we also identify target audiences for projects in development and begin a program of consultation at the project's early stages.

Providing timely information about aspects of our activities that the Beaverlodge site's target audience has said they are most interested in helps Cameco maintain supportive communities.

To keep target audiences in communities with an interest in the Beaverlodge properties informed, Cameco commits to:

- Maintaining two-way communication channels to address the questions and concerns of people within our target audience in a timely and clear manner;
- Providing information, through regular community engagement, regarding significant changes or expansions that require an environmental assessment or require amendments to our facility licence;
- Providing timely information postings to our website about unusual events at the Beaverlodge site that have off-site consequences or that would be of concern to our target audience;
- Providing timely posting to our website information related to an environmental event that triggers a notification to the Canadian Nuclear Safety Commission under Section 29 of the General Nuclear Safety and Control Regulations;
- Posting to our website summaries of non-routine environmental incidents, such as discharges and discoveries, as classified by the province of Saskatchewan;
- Formally meeting with representatives of the Northern Saskatchewan Environmental Quality Committees (NSEQC) to provide information on our environmental performance and any significant operational changes at the Beaverlodge site;
- Conducting regular tours of our operations for members of the NSEQC regional sub-committee, members of the AJES and other community members to increase public knowledge and understanding of our operations.
- Building capacity among residents of northern Saskatchewan to understand the environmental, health and safety aspects of uranium mining, milling, monitoring and reclamation activities, and encouraging youth in communities to understand the opportunities for a safe, healthy and rewarding career;

- Communicating technical aspects of monitoring and reclamation activities in plain language, including talking to community elders in their native language;
- Regularly reviewing with community leaders and others how and what we communicate to ensure relevant information is reaching each site's target audience; and
- Posting this public disclosure protocol on the Beaverlodge website.
